

Veritas Enterprise Flex Agreements

Control deployment and management of designated
Veritas products

Overview

Veritas Enterprise Flex (E-Flex) Program is a prepaid program that provides customers with flexible Veritas Software deployment rights against a set discount over a fixed period of time. The prepaid amount is allocated towards software in specific product families (and their specific OS platforms) that will be deployed over the term of the customer's E-Flex agreement.

When the customer needs to deploy a product license, they simply visit the self-service E-Flex Portal to draw down a license key and activate the license. The portal automatically deducts the value of the draw down against the customer's prepaid value.

As a way to help manage the constant change IT organizations face today, the E-Flex Program enables the customer to transfer deployed licenses to a different hardware tier and/or operating system and, for certain products, crossgrade a deployed license (i.e. upgrade a point product to a larger suite containing that product).

Customers may add additional funds and/ or add additional product families during the term of their E-Flex agreement.

Veritas Essential Support is a requirement of the E-Flex Program. Maintenance / Support renewals are priced at the rate specified in the E-Flex agreement, and are billed annually unless purchased upfront for the term of the E-Flex agreement.

Key Features and Benefits

- Flexibility to choose the product families that meet the organization's needs without determining in advance which specific products will be purchased over the term of the E-Flex agreement
- Allows a customer to leverage the size of their organization to obtain the highest possible discount

E-Flex License Portal

- Online capabilities
  - Obtain new license keys
  - Transfer licenses to a different OS platform and/or a new host ID or server tiers
  - Search deployed licenses from the prepay
  - Share license key information with other permitted users of the licensing system within the organization
  - Track all license keys generated from the online account
  - Centralized license key management
  - Track key activity and audit individual license keys

For additional information regarding E-Flex agreements, please visit www.veritas.com/licensing/enterprise-flex .

For information on all Veritas Licensing Programs, please visit www.veritas.com/licensing .

- Enhanced deployment tracking and reporting
  - Use customized fields to help track and monitor license deployment
  - Track across multiple departments, projects, customer sites and affiliates
  - Defined fields can be a drop down menu or open/blank fields

- Powerful search engine locates license keys that have already been generated and allows the administrator to:
  - Confirm licenses assigned to a specific server
  - Email the license key to be reinstalled